April 2007 is the 30th birthday of the Library Suggestion Book. To celebrate this milestone, Hot Topics features books about books. We’re also celebrating National Library week beginning April 15th, and hosting an exhibit of "altered books" -- art objects made by NOVA students that began their lives as normal books. Some of them even began their lives as library books. So take a moment to explore the history, scope, and promise of books. It's what we're all about.
