there are more slaves in the world today than at any other point in human history with an estimated 27 million in bondage across the globe.

statistic from the A21 campaign awareness is the first step in combating human trafficking.